Pottstown still CARES (with CARES standing for Community, Awareness, Responsibility, Empowerment, and Sustainability). The CARES initiative is continuing with another community clean-up day on Friday, October 24th for the area from High Street north to Beech Street, and Hanover Street east to Keim Street. Volunteers from The Hill's student body, faculty, and staff as well as the Pottstown School District will work with the Borough on the clean-up project. If you would like to show that your neighborhood CARES, assemble a team and make a difference by assisting in the effort. Visit www.pottstown.org for more information.

Pottstown CARES has also formed a Tool Share Shed, located on The Hill School Property, from which community members may borrow equipment on an honor system basis. In order to grow the stock of equipment available, it is asked that upon return of the borrowed equipment community members donate one additional new or gently used item. For more information, please contact Katie Scanlan at kscanlan@thehill.org.

To make a clean-up request, e-mail
PottstownCARES@pottstown.org or contact the Borough at 610-970-6515.

Guy is an Irish singer and songwriter who spends his days fixing vacuums in the Dublin shop he runs with his father, and his nights playing his music in local pubs. He is on the verge of giving up music altogether when a Czech immigrant, "Girl," walks into the bar, hears him play and refuses to let him abandon his guitar. As it turns out, she has a broken vacuum cleaner, Guy repairs it, and she pays him in music on a piano she plays in a record shop. Over the course of a week, Girl convinces Guy to believe in the power of his music and his love for the woman who inspired his songs. They scrape together money to record a demo album with a motley crew of bar friends, and their unexpected friendship and collaboration evolves into a powerful—but very complicated—love story.

"Once" has something of the feel of a pub concert, and every effort is made to give the audience an intimate evening with the characters. Before the show, the actors, who are also the show's musicians, play Irish standards in the Dublin pub set, and audience members are invited to join them for a drink from the onstage bar.
